Introduction

Engineering is one among the most sought after professions in the world .In this global era industry needs plenty of well talented graduates with the right attitude. There are job opportunities for those who have the potential. In addition, opportunities for self-employment are also plenty for innovative and risk taking minds. However a proper orientation about the course and the expectations of the employers are needed to equip the students to be fit for engineering career

Objectives

This course helps new entrants of engineering courses to gain interest in engineering; understand the importance of developing an engineering mindset; learn, unlearn and relearn the skills needed to possess a successful career; know in advance the scope and opportunities of engineering and plan the 4 years' activities accordingly

Agenda

- Why Engineering
- Engineering Skills and Engineering Mindset 21st Century Learning Skills
- Transformation from School to College Knowing the Engineering Job Market
