INSTITUTIONAL DISTINCTIVENESS

Lakshya

Lakshya is an extension activity which is considered as signature project of SSTM. This project intends to impart training in Libre Office CALC / MS Excel to Higher Secondary students in their final year. The students from our institution providing the training mark the distinctiveness of this program. The nearby Government schools are identified and opportunity is provided for the school students to learn and gain exposure on the subject. The curriculum is so designed to give abstract knowledge as well as hands on experience to the students. It is highly appreciable that every time we get a very good feedback for the lecture sessions conducted at their schools as well as for the lab sessions offered at our campus. Upon completion of the course, the students are evaluated and Certificates are issued based on merit. Lakshya is a versatile program that not only enhances the employability skills of the school students, but also sensitizes our students to engage in community services.
